If you have chosen to apply the extra funding, please remember to describe your main focus here. For more help, press "i".

Help-text for the question:

Present a well thought out plan like it is the first time. Describe what the project is about and the planned activities so that the reader gets a sense of timeline. Try to explain who the project is for, the aim and objective of the project as well as the expected results. In the following question, you are able to go into more detail on how children and young people are expected to get involved.

3.2. Description of method (Mandatory)

Number of characters: 0 of max 3000 (min 300)

Help-text for the question:

You are expected to describe which methods are used to reach the targets. Are children and/or young people involved from idea to evaluation? If yes, how? Are they expected to participate on equal measures? Goals or milestones should be included here.

3.3 What do you consider are the project's joint Nordic benefits? (Mandatory)

Number of characters: 0 of max 2000 (min 300)

Help-text for the question:

The Nordic benefits can mean that children and young people get increased access to contacts; they benefit from trading each other's knowledge and experiences and their wellbeing strengthens and develop through meeting. No matter which benefit you believe the project has the potential of contributing, try to explain why you think it applies to your project.

3.4 Does the project aim to include children and young people from vulnerable or underrepresented groups? (Mandatory)

It is considered an advantage if the project wishes to improve the conditions for at-risk and/or underrepresented children and young people. An assessment is made on the chosen method and on how well the cooperative parties are expected to fulfill the project's objectives.

- Yes
- No
